Pioneer Is Dead at Old Home
 PIONEER, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Lucia C. Robt. died at the family residence at the age of 93 years, 11 months and 26 days.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

E. H. Fox of the Corporation Insurance Department of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York and Mrs. Fox are at Key Route Inn this week.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Paxson of Honolulu are stopping at Key Route Inn. With them is their baby, Jimmie, who has the distinction of being the first white child born on Christmas Island.
 Judge J. Richards of Santa Barbara is also at the Key Route Inn. Judge Richards, who is 55 years old and worth $5,000,000, says he would give all his wealth to be young again.
 With Mrs. C. P. Lewis, wife of the night clerk of the Hotel Touraine, arriving the same day that Walter and S. G. Lewis registered from San Luis Obispo and the W. S. Lewis of Sheridan, Nevada, coming in, caused letters and phone calls for the Lewis to be "mixed up."
 Ash Katona, day clerk of the Hotel Touraine, is back after a two months' absence from New York.

MURPHY THREATENS TO START FIGHT

Row Over Dismissal of Two County Employees Occurs at Board Session.

Keeping tab of goods worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and we want him to continue to keep our exhibits for us.
ROW BEFORE MEETING.
 The dispute between Phillips and Murphy occurred just prior to the meeting.
 "Look here," said Phillips to Murphy and Kelley. "What are you trying to do to our exhibits?"
 "Trying nothing, my boy—we've done it!" laughed Kelley.
 "Look here!" shouted Murphy. "We've taken action and we will stand by it. We are running this county—not you!"
 "You are servants of the people, and it's up to you to do the square thing," said Phillips. "We won't let this rest, you can be sure. We will carry it further!"
 "Carry it to hell! For all I care!" retorted Murphy. "This fellow Nichols has not done any work for us for two years. Parsons insulted this board, and we won't have him!"
 "How did he insult you?" demanded Phillips.
 "That's our business!" said Murphy.
INSULTS EXCHANGED.
 "Well, we want efficiency in handling our exhibits," said Phillips. "and politics and religion do not count with us!"
 "If you ever say that to me again I'll smash you in the jaw you—dirty cur!" shouted Murphy.
 Phillips then left the room.
 The factory men, after the board meeting, left for the Chamber of Commerce.
 They will meet tonight to decide on the next step, and according to Phillips will withdraw their exhibits from the county building at Thirteenth and Harrison streets. Formal resolutions, demanding the discharge of Shado, Murphy's brother-in-law, will be passed tonight, it was declared, and other proceedings started.
NAME HEAD/TH OFFICER.
 Routine matters occupied the rest of the session of the board.
 Dr. J. H. Cope was named health officer for the county, vice Dr. C. L. McKown, at a salary of $50 per month.
 Fred A. Campbell protested the purchase of the proposed site on Fourth-street between Broadway and Washington street, for county purposes, offering a cheaper site on the same street. This protest was filed. Acceptance was voted on the work of J. M. Holland on the lawn of the Retention Home.

This Spilt Milk Is Not Cause of Tears
 LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Had Frank Gotham, deliveryman, been inclined to "cry over spilt milk" he would have shed tears of joy today.
 "I'm just naturally the luckiest man in the world," he said, describing how the milk wagon and team he was driving hurtled over the East fourth street bridge and fell sixty feet into the bed of the Los Angeles river.
 Gotham picked himself up in a honeysuckle bed, uninjured. Neither of the horses was badly hurt—but 200 quarts of milk was spilt.

New Suit Filed in Bell Estate
 SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Another suit was added to the long chapter of litigation which followed the death of Thomas Bell, wealthy realty owner, October 15, 1932, when today there was brought an action to quiet title in connection with a claim for a portion of the $1,500,000 realized recently from the sale of valuable oil lands near Santa Barbara.
 A. S. Holman, husband of Marie Bell Holman, who died recently, claims one-eighth of the sale price on the ground that all his wife's interests had been conveyed to him by her prior to her death. The other Bell heirs are suing to quiet title on this claim.

Debt Cost U. S. Army Man Demotion
 SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Following court martial proceedings First Lieutenant Emanuel V. Heidt of the Thirtieth infantry, on duty at the Presidio, has been found guilty of failure to pay his debts and reduced twenty-five points in his lineal rank. An official reprimand was also administered.
 According to the evidence brought into the trial Heidt owed much money in Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Georgia and Kansas. The list of obligations begins with his cadetship at West Point and extends to his San Francisco service. His three brothers, according to army information, paid his bills. They are all officers in the army.

 General Bell expressed general dissatisfaction with the findings of the court-martial and is said to have approved the more extreme measure of dismissal from the service. Lieutenant Heidt was born in Texas, but entered West Point from Georgia. He graduated from the academy with the class of 1911.

HIGH COURT MAY CONJURE R. R. GHOSTS

Interstate Commerce Body
Striving to Compel Heads of Lines to Answer Questions
Concerning Political Activity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—A parade of railroad political ghosts not rivaled in the history of the country may result if the supreme court upholds the district court action of yesterday ordering President Milton H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, to answer Interstate Commerce Commission questions as to his railroad's political activities. Federal experts admitted this today.

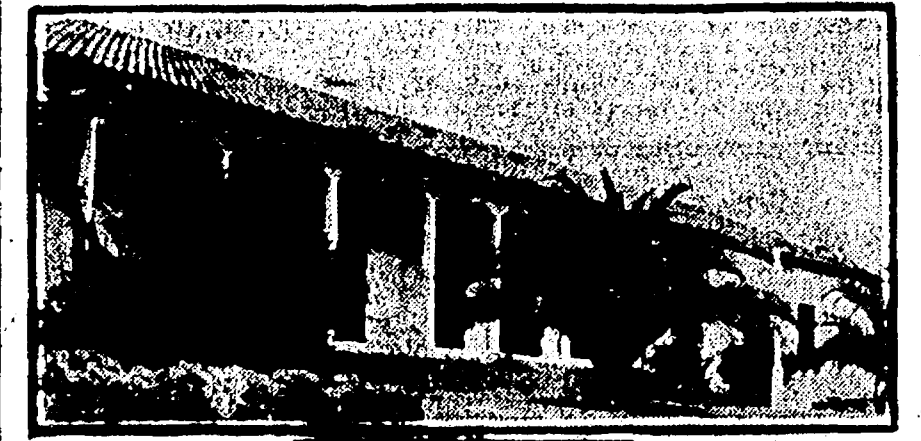

Skeletons of the railroad family that have lain undisturbed for years may be brought to light.

Charges of political string pulling by railroads throughout the country—particularly with reference to the eight-hour law but also with reference to campaign contributions—have been made unofficially as recently as the present campaign.

In the Louisville and Nashville case it is reported that if Smith is made by the supreme court to answer all of the commission's questions, the Goebel case which disrupted Kentucky politics for years will again be brought into the limelight with perhaps other cases to follow.

That other railroads against which charges have been made will be called to answer was considered about certain. Government investigators have accumulated masses of evidence tending to show political activities of other roads and have run into the stone wall of "refusals to answer."

Oldest Landmark to Be Restored Funds Raised to Complete Work

Mission San Jose, fund for the restoration of which will be swelled by theater party.

Native Sons and Daughters Will Welcome Well-Known Actor at Orpheum

Gaiety will reign in unusual measure at the Oakland Orpheum Monday night, when the allied parlor of the Native Sons and Daughters will give greeting to the Orpheum artists, and in particular to Henry Shumer, when the latter appears as Abo Potash in the famous play "Potash and Perlmutter."

The seat sale indicates that records will be broken by the Native Sons and Daughters at this theater party, for which the joint parlor have arranged.

The funds received at the theater party are to be used to complete the restoration of the Mission San Jose, in which the entire order of Native Sons and Daughters is interested. It is certain that a large sum of money will be realized at this theater party for this excellent purpose.

The Native Sons and Daughters are especially delighted at the news that Henry Shumer, one of the most popular actors known to Oakland theater-goers, will make his first appearance at the Orpheum in the "Potash and Perlmutter" play next week. Shumer, of course, will be greeted as an old friend and his ovation will probably be of the gigantic kind.

The Orpheum people secured the famous play "Potash and Perlmutter" as an attraction next week, with a special eye to pleasing the Native Sons and Daughters, who had asked that the bill be made not worthy in some respects at least for this benefit occasion. The Orpheum management was fortunate enough to secure Henry Shumer and Alexis Lucio, two of the finest character actors in the country, from the Alcazar theater management in San Francisco. These two artists will appear as Abo Potash and Perlmutter, supported by twenty clever players.

The firm of H. C. Capwell & Co. has added to the joyousness of the occasion by agreeing to provide the living models in the famous show room scene in "Potash and Perlmutter." Six beautiful girls will appear as the "Potash and Perlmutter" models, all from the H. C. Capwell establishment, and all wearing the choicest gowns from the show rooms of the Capwell firm.

Surrounding the "Potash and Perlmutter" play, which by the way is to be a complete production in every respect, will be a big Orpheum vaudeville bill, including Pearl Allen and Ed. Howard, presenting "A Real Pal"; Jacques Pintel, classical pianist; Wm. De Maest and Estelle Collette in a rhapsody of vaudeville; Webb and Burns, the Italian minstrels; Balzer sisters, supreme aerialists; and Paramount picture features.

Refreshments can be had from the various parlors and at Sherman, Clay's, Kohler and Chase's, and in Fruitvale at Philip & Philip's drug store, Fruitvale avenue, and at the Corner Drug Store, Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street. A meeting of the restoration committee was held last evening at the Merchants' Exchange.

BALL WILL END GOLDEN PATH FETE

San Francisco Thoroughfare
Becomes Blaze of Glory As Electric Parade Forces Way
Through Cheering Throngs

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—San Francisco will, tonight, hold high revel at the "Path of Gold Ball," the windup of the big celebration that marked the illumination of Market street with its new lights. The ball, to take place in the auditorium, will be the biggest affair of its kind ever held in the municipal structure, according to the committees in charge of the feature of the celebration. The great hall has been transformed into a fairyland of light and color. W. A. D'Arcy Ryan, illumination artist of the Exposition, having designed the illumination for the big dance.

Preceding the ball will be the inspection of the newly completed city hall. A special fireworks display will be another feature of the program. The pageant will be the opening event of the ball, when the "Rights of Ages," showing the progress of lightings, will be shown. Dancing will commence immediately after the pageant.

STREET ABLAZE WITH COLOR.
The "Path of Gold" became a reality, last night, when Mayor James Rolph pressed a button that filled Market street, from the Ferry to Seventh, with a wonderful artificial sunlight, from the electric light, a new invention in lighting devices.

The parade started immediately after the lights burst into being. The crowds on Market street were so heavy that it was almost impossible to get the parade through, and high carnival reigned until long after midnight.

The parade was a "parade of light," the floats being illuminated to match the shining street down which they passed from Van Ness avenue. Tableaux showing San Francisco history, the progress of the art of electric lighting, glimpses of the Exposition, were all seen in the floats. Various types of lamps, from the cave man's torch to the present day, were displayed.

FEATURES ARE MANY.
William P. Filmer acted as grand marshal of the parade, assisted by Angelo Rossi and Robert A. Ross. The Naval Militia, the Coast Artillery, and other military organizations participated. Mayor Rolph and the supervisors, with the Municipal Band, led the city section of the parade. The California Grays marched in the second division. In another division the Chinese Dragon coiled through the crowd under the auspices of the Six Companies.

One of the features of the ball tonight will be the presentation of the W. A. D'Arcy Ryan Transparencies of the Exposition for the first time. A number of remarkable illuminating effects, by lights being played on flowers, are among the plans for tonight. Thornton Mulhally will be in charge of the ball.

Auto Upsets; Four Are Injured in Accident

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Following an accident on San Pedro road, in which one man was injured probably fatally and three others were hurt when an auto was overturned and burned, Charles Kirby, driver of the vehicle, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Victor Carmine, wireless operator of the steamer Governor, was pinned beneath the burning car and would have been burned to death but for prompt arrival of Deputy Sheriff Counts and McNulty. The two officers seized the blazing vehicle with their bare hands and dragged it from the prostrate victim. He suffered a fracture of the left leg.

Walter Painter of San Francisco received a basal fracture of the skull and may die.

John Rowan, news agent on the Governor, received bruises and lacerations on the face, arms and head.

Just for This, Prison Is Home

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5.—Twenty years in prison because of a 5-cent bet in a crap game, a man who had a lifetime in prison because a hat didn't fit.

The foregoing are two of the freak causes why men are spending their day in the Ohio penitentiary, according to a report made today by Bertillon Officer Robert Miles.

The twenty-year man was convicted of manslaughter after killing a man who refused to "fade" 5 cents in a crap game. In the second, the salesman said the hat fitted, the patron shot and killed the latter.

Some of the other freaks: Four robbers facing one to twenty years for loot totaling 37 cents and three street-car tickets.

Former Supervisor Surprises by Wedding

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Thomas Jennings, capitalist and former Supervisor, surprised his friends yesterday with a quiet deflection from the ranks of bachelors. He was married at Mission Dolores to Mrs. Katherine Slane of 1357 Washington street.

The ceremony was performed by Father George Lacombe and the newly-weds left immediately afterward on a honeymoon trip, the destination of which was kept as profound a secret as were the plans for the marriage.

Jennings, who is 50 years old, is one of the best known of San Francisco's business men. He is president of the firm of Hooper & Jennings, wholesale grocers, and a member of the board of directors of the First National Bank. He is a member of the Family and the Olympic Club and was formerly commodore of the Corinthian Yacht Club.

Stores are very much like people. There are "grouchy" stores and "smiling" stores. There are stores which always seem to be after your money, and there are stores that seem to be so crossgrained in pleasing their customers that they make friends by their attentive, painstaking service that the matter of profits is apparently lost sight of.

There are stores which hesitate and reluctantly grant favors, and there are other stores that seem to consider it a favor to deliver a 5-cent spoon of thread.

The "grouchy" stores make a big fuss selling a few things for less than cost, and the "smiling" stores take such losses as a matter of course.

The "grouchy" stores are always talking about losing money, and yet, as a rule, their prices are higher than those of their more optimistic competitors.

And yet at the end of the year the "smiling" store makes a profit and the other a loss.

Now, here is the question: Is the "grouchy" fellow grouchy because business is bad, or is business bad because he is grouchy?

We know the answer as far as "smiling stores" are concerned.

HOW ARE YOU PREPARED FOR WINTER?

It looks as if we were going to have an early winter.

There are certain drug store items which are necessary to purchase at the beginning of each winter season, and the earlier you buy them the more service you receive.

Such articles as umbrellas, hot-water bags, thermos bottles for hot lunch, family liniments for the usual winter ailments, etc., should be bought right now.

Suppose you look around and see what you need. Have you plenty of umbrellas? Enough for all of the children as well as for yourself and husband? You can get a good umbrella for a dollar, and it's certainly worth a dollar to avoid a cold.

You ought to have one or two extra hot-water bags to hand in case of especially cold weather or unexpected sickness. Many people keep a nice new hot-water bag especially for their guest room.

Therefore, turn your thoughts to winter, for it's surely coming early this year.

NEW IDEA FOR A WEDDING "SHOWER"

A young saleswoman in a store in Scranton, Pa., has hit upon a novel idea for a wedding or birthday "shower."

She suggests a "stationery shower," which isn't a bad idea. Everyone uses stationery about in proportion to their social popularity, and any young lady popular enough to enjoy a wedding or birthday shower can use a whole lot of stationery.

Speaking of stationery, do you know we carry Enton, Crane & Pike Co.'s Highland Linen?

If you wish to be judged by the writing paper you use, and at the same time are required to save the nickels and dimes, this stationery will interest you. It comes in various shapes, shades and sizes, with the positive assurance that all are correct and in perfect taste.

You pay the recipient of your letters a subtle compliment when you use Highland Linen, which is always appreciated.

This paper comes in boxes of 24 sheets and 24 envelopes at 35c a box.

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD ABOUT BLACKO?

Have you ever wished you had a little glossy black paint to touch up the rusty bolts of your automobile or to cover some unsightly plumbing or to brighten up your furniture?

We have exactly what you want. It is called "Blacko" and sells for 25c a bottle, including a brush.

Blacko dries almost instantly to a rich jet glossy black. It is waterproof and lasting, easily applied and very inexpensive.

Our customers even use it to blacken old straw hats, because it can be used upon straw, leather or fabric as well as upon wood and metals of all kinds.

We have sold thousands of bottles of Blacko, and every one who buys it has a good word to say for it. In fact, almost every day someone comes in and says: "Give me a bottle of Blacko—it's the handiest article of its kind I've ever had around the house."

We enjoy telling you about Blacko, because it makes so many, many friends for Bowman's.

Action of Single Spoonful Surprises Many

Oakland people who bought the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Lika, are surprised at the INSTANT effect of a SINGLE SPOONFUL. This remedy is so complete a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-Lika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gases tumble and pass out. AFTER 60 YEARS

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION, in spite of its growth in recent years, has everywhere proved a failure. It has failed as a moral force and as a promoter of wealth. Above all, it has failed of the one purpose which its advocates claim justify its existence—it has nowhere prohibited the sale and use of liquor. Indeed in most instances it has aggravated the evils of the traffic.

That State prohibition is a failure can be demonstrated to the satisfaction of any unprejudiced person who will take the trouble to inform himself at first hand of actual conditions in any prohibition State he may select. The truth has been admitted by many prohibitionists, including Capt. Hobson, champion of a new panacea for the world's ill—nation-wide prohibition.

SALOONS GALORE

It is reasonable to assume that those States which have longest had prohibition furnish the best examples of its success or failure. Let us glance at the oldest, Maine, to-day, is "wide open," after more than sixty years of prohibition. At the present time Portland has more than one hundred open saloons and innumerable speak-easies. It is estimated that Lewiston has nearly two hundred places where liquor is sold, many of which are as accessible as those in San Francisco. These places sell all sorts of liquors. Many of the Lewiston saloons are as up-to-date in stock and furnishings as those in a license State. Bangor has two hundred liquor places, scores of which are wide open.

MAINE'S DISGRACE

So openly is the law violated in Maine, a few months ago the Rev. Wilbur F. Berry, head of Maine's leading anti-liquor organization, demanded that Gov. Curtis call out the militia to enforce prohibition. The Governor admitted the law was being flagrantly violated, but declared himself powerless to remedy matters.

Drunkenness is a matter of disgrace to several Maine cities. In Lewiston the number of arrests from March 1, 1915, to Sept. 3, 1915, six months, were 1,476, and it is admitted that many drunks were detained by the police without being recorded. In Portland 3,681 drunks were arrested in 1914, or one to every sixteen of population. Bangor has 3,167 arrests for drunkenness for the year ending March 1, 1915, or a little better than one in every seven of population. These figures prove that drunkenness in Maine cities is greatly in excess of that in the vast majority of license cities in California.

PROSPERITY MINUS

Prohibition States, as a rule, are not so prosperous as the States where liquor is legally sold, because while the sale of liquor keeps on the revenue stops, and there also stop many industries allied with the sale of liquors. In savings bank deposits, for example, the latest statistics show that Maine was $36 below the average for the United States and $67 below the average for California. There are 321 savings bank accounts to the 1000 population in Maine and 414 in California. Wages in Maine are notoriously low. If prohibition is a promoter of prosperity, should there not be some visible evidence of it in Maine after sixty years?

REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS

But the chief indictment against State-wide prohibition is found in the bad moral and law-and-order aspects of the situation. Where the sale of liquor is not regulated by responsible licensing authorities no adequate protection can be given the young and the weak of either sex; and where one important law is violated with impunity, all laws must inevitably suffer. Thus a premium is placed upon lawlessness, as is all too frequently seen in prohibition sections. The story of Maine is the story of every prohibition State in varying degree. Emphatically prohibition does not prohibit, nor does it add anything to the welfare of the State. It is the one gigantic failure in legislative history.

Study the record of Maine, of Kansas, of any prohibition State, and you will not find in any of them any reason to believe that California will improve her condition, morally or materially, by following their example.

Register now and vote against Prohibition Amendments No. 1 and 2 at the November election.

Kiddies Agog! Sells-Floto Is Here

Juvenile Population Grets Circus

Many Big Surprises Are in Store

A PICTURE OF A CROWD OF CHILDREN GOING TO THE MOVIES.

The Windsor ties are in full evidence today, along with freshly laundered blouses and dresses. It is remarkable what parents can do with the children when the latter know that the circus is come to town. Ordinarily, the son of the house would demur in no gentle tones if his face were washed up often in the day and the daughter, at a certain age, is just as bad. But, with news that the circus is here—and Sells-Floto-Buffalo Bill circus at that—the juvenile population of town submit to the cleaning treatment almost willingly.

During the morning procession this morning, Oakland's streets were well lined with youngsters. Parents were along, too, feeling indifferent but secretly enjoying the spectacle as much as the children. The elephants looked down in wonderment at such a nice clean crowd of little boys and girls. They wagged their trunks in fact.

After the procession, in which the great gilded wagons, with their animal freight, the pretty feminine performers and the "big" elephants on their poles took a prominent part, all juvenile eyes were turned toward the circus grounds. And wishes for immediate entrance into the big tent by the youngsters had to be evaded strenuously by Mamas and Papas.

However, when everyone did start to filter into the "lot," they saw plenty of things which the "two-ringer" of thirty years ago didn't dream existed. For instance, there's Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion, who topped off Jack Johnson. He gave an excellent exhibition of his prowess and how a won't-be name at the top niche in sport-dom.

There's Little Miracle, the only baby elephant born in captivity that has lived; there are clowns and clowns and clowns; there's Lucia Zora, a wonderful woman, who controls elephants and their "stunts" by the mere sound of her voice. There are Wild West elements which substitute excitement for the real thing of fifty years back. In fact, there's everything. That's why this afternoon's performance, beginning at 2 o'clock, started to attract large droves of kiddies and their older guardians long before the performance. That's why this evening's show at 8 o'clock will be packed to the tops.

Why does the circus still draw its millions of spectators? It's a long story. Too long. Enough said that the kiddies are willing to submit to the wash-rag and soap. That the boys will not protest at the Windsor ties. Sells-Floto and its Buffalo Bill Wild West brother is here!

POTATOES SCARCE, QUARANTINE STRICT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—With the potato crop so short that thousands of bushels must be imported for home consumption, the Department of Agriculture has issued a statement warning importers of strict regulations to be complied with, requiring permits for all shipments and examination at ports of entry by inspectors of the department. Because of the expense of these inspections, notice is given that, for the present, permits will be issued only for the ports of Seattle, Portland, Ore.; San Francisco, Minneapolis, Port Huron, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

JAPANESE MENACE BASEBALL MARKET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—On the eve of the baseball world's series, news comes to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce today of a Japanese invasion of the American baseball manufacturing business which already has captured Canada and leaped over the protective tariff trenches into American markets.

The letter says that the Japanese manufacturers have taken considerable of the American trade in cheap balls in Canada.

INEZ BOISSEVAIN TO VISIT STATE

INEZ BOISSEVAIN, famous suffrage speaker, also the "most beautiful woman in the United States," left New York October 2, and will be in Oakland October 21, to deliver an address on "The Woman's Party."

She will be accompanied by her husband, Eugene Boissevain, and the Democratic national candidates because of the Democratic Party's opposition to nation-wide woman suffrage.

Every one of the twelve equal suffrage states is to be visited by the Boissevains in their whirlwind stump-speaking swing around the circle. The trip is to follow the same route as the "Suffrage Special" covered on its historic tour early in the summer. Leaving Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Boissevain will be in the West until election day. Regular stops will be made at important points in each state, with numerous platform speeches at many places where the train makes a stop.

Mrs. Boissevain when she married Eugene Boissevain, a citizen of the Netherlands, an American citizen. This law applies only to American women, not to American men taking foreign wives.

By profession she is a lawyer, practicing in New York. She attended to enter Harvard and Columbia University law schools, but, being a woman, was denied admission. She graduated from New York University Law School. Previously she had been educated abroad and at Vassar. She has been active in various social and economic movements, having been an agitator for the labor cause in appearance and of a state beauty.

Mrs. Boissevain is tall, athletic, striking in appearance and of a state beauty. She rode a milk-white horse, as herald of the famous suffrage parade in Washington, on the day before the inauguration of President Wilson. The suffragists on that occasion, as is well recalled, were subjected to many indignities by the hooting crowd which lined Pennsylvania avenue on both sides.

Mrs. Boissevain will make a Chicago, October 3; Sheridan, Wyo., October 5; Billings, Mont., October 6; Casper, Wyo., October 8; Boise, Idaho, October 9; Portland, Ore., October 10; Seattle, Wash., October 11; Spokane, Wash., October 12; Shelby, Mont., October 14; Great Falls, Mont., October 15; Helena, Mont., October 16; Butte, Mont., October 17; Salt Lake City, Utah, October 18; Ogden, Utah, October 19; Winnemica, Nev., October 20; Reno, Nev., October 21; Sacramento, October 22; San Francisco, October 23; Los Angeles, October 24; Phoenix, Ariz., October 25; Tucson, Ariz., October 26; Prescott, Ariz., October 27; Winslow, Ariz., October 28; Trinidad, Colo., October 29; Denver, October 30; Colorado Springs, November 1; Pueblo, Colo., November 2; Newton, Kan., November 3; Wichita, Kan., November 4; Topeka, Kan., November 5; Chicago, November 6.

BERLIN'S FOOD IS SHORT, SAYS PAPER

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Great difficulty is being experienced in provisioning Berlin, according to the Socialist paper Vorkwaerts of that city, as quoted by Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

The potato supply is said to have been stopped during the last few days, the interruption being attributed to lack of field laborers.

The decrease in the milk supply is the subject of anxious discussion by the authorities. The newspaper says many of the large dealers have discontinued their consignments to the city, owing to the shortage and also to the fact that when they have been able to sell small quantities the profit has been slight.

According to this information there has been a great rush to the soap kitchens which now distribute 34,000 portions daily.

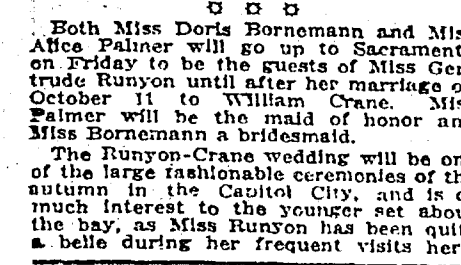

"Gets-It" Never Fails for Corns!

There's Nothing on Earth Like It for Corns and Calluses.

"Whenever you get corns and calluses, don't experiment—just use 'GETS-IT' and nothing else. The easiest and simplest thing I know to use—just a few drops on it in a few seconds—'GETS-IT' does the rest."

The old way is to bundle up your toes in harnesses and bandages, use salve that makes toes raw, cotton rings that make your corns pop, and knives and "diggers" that tear your heels out and leave the corn in. No wonder they make you limp and wince. Forget all these—use "GETS-IT," the simplest corn remedy in the world, easiest to use, never fails or sticks, painless. Your corn loosens, then you lift it off. You can wear smaller shoes. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Oakland at all stores of The Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

"Front Street, wearing her tall, black hat," said Mrs. Brown. "I asked Uncle Wiggily in his best party voice, 'I hope you are very well.'"

"Oh, yes, very indeed," exclaimed the dog loudly. "But where is Nurse Jane?"

"She had to go away. I'm to entertain you with a cup of tea when all the others get here."

"Oh, that will be fine," laughed Mrs. Brown. "With a nurse I did not entertain who were to have the pleasure of being received by you."

"What pleasure at all mine," said Mrs. Longears with a polite bow, which is the tea kettle and the cork was blown across the kitchen.

"Oh, my! Uncle Wiggily!" cried a voice at the kitchen door. "Are you trying to have a Fourth of July all by yourself?"

Uncle Wiggily looked, and there stood Susie Littleell, the rabbit girl. She was laughing.

"I am trying to make tea for some of Nurse Jane's company whom I am entertaining while she is downstairs," Uncle Wiggily, "but I don't seem to get it just right."

"Let me see the teapot," spoke Susie

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." EIGHT MAY BE TOLL OF SCHOOL FIRE

Two Priests and Attendant Are Victims of Disaster to Christian Brothers' College, Oldest of Catholic Institutions

Fourth Floor of Building Falls and Members of Department Are Plunged Into Wreckage With Fatal Results to Some

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5.—Four persons are dead and as many missing as the result of the fire which destroyed Christian Brothers' College here today. Some ten firemen were injured.

The dead: Brother Carmack, 32, Brother Clement, 75, Louis Noleau, 35, Morrisville, Ill., Lieutenant Buddie of the fire department.

Brothers Carmack and Clement were hurled to death in the fire on the fifth floor and Noleau died of injuries received when he leaped from a fifth-story window.

When a wall collapsed at noon a dozen firemen were buried in the debris. Eight scrambled from beneath the wreckage, but Lieutenant Buddie was hit by a heavy timber and killed. Rescuers say they have located three other bodies. Fire Chief Henderson said four of his men were missing and it is thought they are dead beneath the timbers. The monetary loss is estimated at $300,000.

Villa Code of Divorce Is Cited

Bandit Chief Gave Custom to Mazatlan

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—That Villa was the Henry VIII of Mexico and that until he introduced divorce in Mazatlan, a city of the southern republic, this convenient method of disposing of a wife was not known, was testified to in Superior Judge Graham's court today. The absence of provision for a legal separation prior to the last few years, saved for Roberto Prince a substantial share in the estate of his wife, Mrs. Jesus Prince, which was valued at $30,000. The property was to have been finally distributed today when an objection was raised to Roberto receiving a share on the ground that he had been separated from his wife for thirty years and was probably divorced from her. Another relative, Inga Torres, took the stand and testified that Roberto could not have been divorced as divorce was unknown at Mazatlan until Villa appeared and that the Mexican chieftain had introduced the custom and availed himself of the privilege five times.

FAIRBANKS SAYS GOOD-BYE TO STATE

Vice-Presidential Nominee Is Feted by California Republicans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Carrying with him the good wishes and support of a United Republic party for the election of Charles Evans Hughes and himself as the standard bearers in the 1916 campaign, Charles Warren Fairbanks said goodbye to California this morning. Three short days spent in this state were signified by uniformly successful meetings and monster demonstrations in honor of the candidate for vice-president. He departed from the metropolis with an expression of regret that he must say goodbye to some one and then I may have made his journey a pleasant and profitable one. He said:

"I have had a most wonderful time. You have been more than good to me and I think California is simply great. I have enjoyed every minute of my stay. I like the state and I certainly enjoyed the Path of Gold celebration to the full. I am sorry that my stay has been so short but I will come again some time and then I may have an opportunity to play a bit. This time it has been all work, but pleasurable work and I believe successful work."

The vice-presidential nominee spent a busy morning in the city before he completely by surprise just before his departure by Senator T. E. Burton of Ohio, who is a fellow campaigner with him in the service of the National Republican Committee. Senator Burton dropped into San Francisco unexpectedly last night.

The two distinguished visitors compared notes on the campaign in a short fifteen-minute conference. Fairbanks had breakfast this morning with Senator Burton, chairman of the Republican State Central committee, and Meyer Lissner, former Progressive leader of Los Angeles.

Both were in the party which escorted the candidate to the ferry. Mayor James Rolph Jr., Arthur Arlett of Oakland, Byron Maury and Eustace Cullinane were also on the committee to bid the visitor farewell.

Fairbanks, with his manager, secretary and physician, left for Portland, Ore., where he speaks tomorrow night. He will make three addresses from the platform of his train en route.

ATTACKS LIQUOR TRAFFIC. Chaplain General Jenks of New York addressed a good sized crowd at Odd Fellows' Temple last evening. He spoke in favor of the abolition of the liquor traffic. His arguments were directed principally against bootlegging, which he charged "was made by the monks of France." General Jenks speaks tonight at Odd Fellows' Hall on "Washington in the Grasp of Rome."

HEALTHY SKIN

DEPENDS ON KIDNEYS.

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c package of "Anuric," the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an "Anuric Tablet," and notice the gratifying results.—Advertisement.

HUSTON CLEARED OF SUSPICION

Police of Opinion That Wife Ended Life in Fit of Jealousy.

Forrest Huston, taken into custody in San Francisco yesterday following the death of his wife, Martha M. Huston, Tuesday night when she stated that her husband had poisoned her, will be released from the city prison today, absolved from all blame concerning the death of the woman, the police have determined that the woman committed suicide.

Investigation of Huston's story that he had slain his wife at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and had been in a San Francisco hotel all of Tuesday night proved it to be true in every essential particular. The papers and deeds which the woman claimed just before her death had been taken from her have been found in a safe deposit box, the police say.

This is the first time in local police history that a similar case has been unearthed, a case wherein a woman committed suicide with the intention of accusing a husband of having murdered her. Police investigation has developed the fact that Mrs. Huston, who had been Huston's step-mother prior to their marriage eight months ago, and who was 20 years his senior, was wildly jealous of him, and had often threatened to take his life.

Mrs. Huston died Tuesday night, while being removed to the Emergency hospital. Tenants in her lodging house at 820 East Fifteenth street, who heard screams and rushed in to her room to find her on the bed in a dying condition. Just before she lapsed into unconsciousness she told John McGuire, one of her tenants, that her husband had given her strychnine as a headache medicine. She also told McGuire and Dr. A. B. Powell, who was called to attend her, that her husband had stolen deeds to her property. She left an estate valued at more than $30,000.

TRACE MOVEMENTS. The police then learned that Huston had separated from the woman on Monday, telling her that he would never return to her. On Tuesday morning he visited his former business partner, Felton Dodd, at Tenth street and Broadway, and told him that she would shoot her husband. Dodd always suspected a revolver. The weapon was later found in the home.

It was also learned that Huston had sent his wife a note at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, two hours before she took the fatal poison dose. In this note he told her that he would never return to her and that he was on his way to Reno, Nev. Huston told the police today that he had written this note to delude Mrs. Huston into the belief that he had left the state.

He was on his way to his new place of business, a tobacco shop, at Market street, San Francisco, when Police Inspector T. J. Flynn took him into custody yesterday afternoon. Flynn investigated his story of having been in San Francisco all night Tuesday, and found it to be true.

"There is no question in my mind," L. F. Agnew, captain of inspectors, said today, "that the woman killed herself and tried to have it appear that her husband had killed her. I think that she tore the screen from the bedroom window to make it appear that she had been shot. Huston will be released as soon as a few detail matters have been attended to."

IN TERROR

"I have been in terror for my life for weeks," Huston said today. "My wife often threatened to kill me. She was wildly jealous, and often accused me of associating with other women, and she would soon with the excesses of her rage. On many occasions, during these rages, she would accuse me with two loaded revolvers and threaten to kill me and commit suicide. Whenever she would calm down she would hide the revolvers, and I was never able to find them. I tied her night gown to my leg when we retired for the night, for fear I would not awaken if she left the bed to get a revolver. "I finally decided to leave her. I could no longer stand her abuse. I told her this Monday night. Then on Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, I returned to her to reassure her that I was through with her as a wife. That is the last time I saw her."

Enlarge Postoffice for Christmas Mail

With a view to doubling the accommodation of the Oakland postoffice to cope with an anticipated record rush of Christmas mail, work was started today and will be rushed on the new temporary postoffice annex being built at the rear of the main structure. The annex will have a floor space of 6000 square feet and will be constructed of corrugated iron. Here will be located the office of the superintendent of mails and the mail directory department. It will give the staff full facilities for dealing with the increasing amount of mail which the present accommodation does not afford.

Until the proposed new $1,000,000 postoffice is built in this city, for which an appropriation of $650,000 has already been assured, the temporary building will be in use probably for about four months.

New Rail Rate Bureau for C. of C.

A new bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, in which railroad men and shippers meet to thresh out any difficulties between their agents, will be established within the next few weeks in the "Railroad Bureau" of the chamber. The plans for the new bureau are in the hands of R. A. Podlech, of the Santa Fe, W. A. McArthur, of the Southern Pacific and W. Davis, of the Western Pacific. The bureau will hold luncheons at the Commercial Club grill twice a month, when it will discuss whatever is brought up by shippers and users of railroad service. The bureau will consider plans for the betterment of the service. A secretary in the chamber will handle the clerical work of the new organization.

DIES AT WORK

Arrangements for the funeral of James Matheson, department store employee, have not yet been completed. Matheson, residing at 2870 Summit street, was stricken with apoplexy while at his work behind the store counter and dropped dead as a customer waited. He was 50 years old and is survived by a widow and a 15-year-old son.

MOTHERS MEET

The regular business meeting of the Durant School Mothers' Club was held yesterday with a large number of members in attendance despite the inclement weather. Plans were discussed for the coming Halloween dance and held on December 2.

GENOISE TO SELL AT BABY BAZAAR

Italian Setting for Benefit at Municipal Auditorium October 19.

Plans for the bazaar and ball to be given for the benefit of the Oakland Baby Hospital on October 19, 20 and 21 are so far advanced as to show that features of unusual attractiveness and interest will be offered to those who patronize the entertainments. This year's benefit is the most elaborate yet attempted and it is anticipated that a large sum will be netted for the maintenance of the worthy institution.

The entire floor of the Municipal Auditorium will be converted for the time being into a replica of an Italian market. Each will be in charge of Mrs. Duane McDuffie, formerly president of the Hospital Association. Stalls will be arranged for the sale of all fresh food products that the market affords, and the saleswomen—volunteers from among the sixty maid and matrons of Oakland—will be dressed in the picturesque peasant costumes of Italy.

A feature of the market will be an electrical booth in which food will be prepared by electricity in full view of the spectators. A restaurant will be conducted in connection with this electric kitchen and luncheons will be served in the afternoon. A corps of waitresses dressed in a modification of the nurse's uniform will be on hand in charge of Mrs. W. W. Briggs.

On Thursday and Friday afternoons, moving pictures will be shown in the municipal opera house, the reels being supplied by the Universal and International film companies. On Saturday afternoon, juvenile players from the Children's Theater of Berkeley, under the direction of Mrs. John Howell, will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Mr. Adams, organ will contribute to the program for that afternoon. The benefit will close on Saturday night with a California Masque Ball under the direction of Mrs. Charles B. Wingate. The participants will represent in their costumes all the characters of early life in the Golden State. A spectacular pageant is in preparation for that evening under the direction of Porter Garnett, who has a rapidly widening fame as a stage director and producer.

The man in the Moon will make the announcements of the various numbers on the evening's program, accompanied by a group of moon maidens. Some startling features are promised for the occasion and not least among them will be the electrical effects of shifting colored lights upon the masquers.

The gallery will be reserved for spectators and a charge of fifty cents will be made for each ticket. Admission to the main floor will be one dollar. Boxes which are already nearly exhausted, are held at $15 each. Mrs. Harry Farr is in charge of the sale of spectators' tickets and the boxes are in the hands of Mrs. Clifton Mason.

State Buys Wholesale Institution Supplies

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 5.—Contracts for $400,000 worth of sugar, flour, supplies for state institutions to last until July 1, 1917, were entered into today by the state board of control. State Purchasing Agent W. G. McMillan says the bids ranged from 5 to 20 per cent lower than the bidding price and that the state will save approximately $50,000 in buying by wholesale.

Y. W. C. A. TO OPEN NEW DEPARTMENT

Luncheon and Dinner Monday to Mark Milestone for Association.

The Young Women's Christian Association is realizing its ideal in completing the occupation of its new building on Webster street, and there is great rejoicing on the part of all the women interested in the work. On Monday they will open their dining room with a special luncheon and dinner, to which the public is most cordially invited.

The new economic director, Miss Jane Twiss, who had been called to take charge of the cuisine, is a graduate of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., and is a woman of large and successful experience. Committees have been at work for several weeks making adequate preparations and it is expected that many hundreds of people will participate in the occasion. There will be musical programs in the court adjoining the dining room both at the noon time and again in the evening. These are in charge of Mrs. J. G. Hoyt, Mrs. Alexander Stewart and Mrs. J. A. Snyder. Large reception committees will be on hand to greet the large crowd that is expected.

A public right of way has been opened between Franklin and Webster streets at Fifteenth which will materially shorten the distance between the Young Women's Christian Association and the shopping district. A percolator has been built which will be illuminated by electricity, making it a safe passage way for pedestrians at night. The committee through whom this work has been accomplished is Mrs. H. U. Maxfield, Miss Augusta Clow and Miss Helen Kinsull.

Many prominent women have signified their intention of serving on the different committees. Those in charge of the reception committee are: Miss Eva Powell, president of the association; Mrs. Arthur L. Adams, Mrs. A. H. Bred, Mrs. P. F. Barbour, Mrs. Louis F. Cockroft, Miss Janet Haight, Mrs. N. A. Koser, Mrs. A. K. Munson, Mrs. Ralph Merritt, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. F. T. McHenry, Mrs. E. R. Suppman, Mrs. A. J. Snyder, Miss Helen Van Slyke, Mrs. E. D. Yorker, Mrs. Florence E. Wells.

Elaborate decorations are being planned by the following: Mrs. H. W. Kent, Mrs. Clinton Walker, Mrs. Girard Richardson, Mrs. Cora B. Kling, Mrs. H. L. Osgood. The advertising committee is as follows: Mrs. George C. Coddling, Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Lily Cole.

Police Investigate Thefts of Jewelry

Jewelry and coin amounting to more than $150 in value were stolen by burglars who last night entered the homes of S. A. Coombes, 454 Thirty-seventh street, and W. H. Page, 378 Moss avenue, according to reports made to the police today. A burglar took jewelry worth $70 from the home of John Ladich, 922 Franklin street. Louis Miller, 1405 Seminary avenue, told the police that he had been robbed of a purse containing $19.

RAILROADS AND THE FUTURE.

The public is so apt to become engrossed with a conspicuous detail of a great problem that there is grave danger of the recent controversy between the railway operators and brotherhoods completely obscuring the essential difficulties of the railway situation. If affected at all, these have been increased by the new eight-hour day legislation, because this means news phases of governmental regulation through machinery based upon a misconception of what the railroad position is.

The present prosperous period of railroad operation must not be accepted as a normal condition. Mr. E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe system, has given this succinct resume:

Gross analysis of operations for the year clearly indicate the enhanced earnings to be almost wholly due to the war in Europe. Even things apparently remote can be traced to this source. There is no shipping from the Atlantic ports to the Pacific Coast, increasing rail tonnage greatly; the copper and zinc mines of Arizona and New Mexico are being worked to the limit for war supplies; the European demand for foodstuffs has made large prices for grain, creating increased purchasing power; the oil industry is constantly growing in importance, and, with the Old World supplies cut off and enormous demands for gasoline, has added heavily to tonnage. In fact, business of all kinds has been stimulated to such an extent that there have been no dull periods during the entire year.

Mr. Ripley is speaking only for the Santa Fe, but he has described the conditions of other roads. The public will, therefore, gain a false impression by judging general conditions with the returns for the fiscal year of 1916. To form a fairly accurate condition, it is necessary to compare the present with conditions prior to the beginning of the war prosperity and to strike an average.

It would also be productive of illusions to compare present earnings with the situation in 1915, or 1914, when one-sixth of the mileage of the country was in bankruptcy and operated by receivers. The year of 1913 was the nearest to normal and taking this as a basis, the earnings for 1916 have increased only 7.5 percent in operative revenue. This, too, under the enhancing influence of the war. In 1907, a year of real railroad prosperity, the earnings were at the rate of 5.83 percent out of a total of revenues of only $2,589,000,000, as compared with $3,397,000,000 in 1916. Since the earlier year property investment has increased materially; in 1907 it was $13,000,000,000, and today it is $17,247,000,000—an increase of over four billion dollars.

The necessities which the railroads must face and the Interstate Commerce Commission deal with is further new investments in improvements and extensions. During the slough of 1914 and 1915, the railroads had no money to invest in improvements—they failed to meet normal maintenance requirements. During the fiscal year of 1916 they were too busy earning operative revenue to attend to new work. The roads must be permitted and compelled to provide against the increased demands of normal traffic. New equipment, extensions and terminals are needed. The Interstate Commerce Commission must adopt a more liberal policy toward the creation of adequate surpluses for these purposes than it has followed in the past, or the productive interests of the country will soon be face to face with a traffic situation that will mean substantial losses, if not impoverishment.

WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.

Women are certainly gaining in political prominence. In three States women candidates are being backed for Congress by all the larger parties—Republicans, Democrats and Progressives.

In the State of Washington, Mrs. Francis C. Axtell is candidate for Congress on the Progressive ticket, and is receiving the support of many Democrats. In Kansas, Dr. Eva Harding is running on the Democratic ticket, having won the nomination over her male opponent by 608 votes. While she is running in a strong Republican district, that of Representative Dan Anthony of Leavenworth, she has a "fighting chance." Miss Jeanette Rankin is a Republican candidate for Congress in Montana.

All three of these women are widely known and highly esteemed in their districts. They appear to have been nominated because the electors thought they would make able representatives in Congress. They are all leaders in the suffrage movement, Miss Rankin having won a nationwide reputation for her work as an organizer of the National American Woman Suffrage Association. One of the incidents of the practice of women suffrage has been the breaking down of the old-time prejudice against women in high office.

HOW DO YOU DO?

The country is saved! Two former presidents of the United States have met and shaken hands. For several weeks the expected event had been heralded throughout the length and breadth of the land, as the spellbinders say, as an event of stellar social, political and historic importance. These were its advertised values. The basic motive for promoting the epochal handshake was of course literary; but that was kept in the background.

It is doubtful if the country has ever given so much attention to the infelicities of the relationship between two men as it has to the affairs of Judge Taft and Colonel Roosevelt. Really, there was no occasion for any of the excitement, and all the interest was reared upon a false foundation. It did not matter in the least whether Taft and Roosevelt met again except as it might affect their own feelings and state of mind. And judging them by the nature of other men they were quite satisfied to remain apart.

Their former friendship was broken on differences in methods of procedure and some personal disharmonies. But, along their different lines, both gentlemen were and are pursuing the same object—the erection and maintenance of a sound, courageous, efficient American government; under which good citizenship will be rewarded with the protection of its inherent rights.

As soldiers in this cause they had the highest respect for each other's views and efforts and they worked in harmony, though apart. As a fat golfer and a noisy faunal naturalist they were not affinities. As aspirants for a certain high political honor they were incorrigible enemies. Their cooperative work is valuable, because it is along right lines; their personal animosities are of no importance one way or the other.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt met at a public reception, and being conventionally decorous, Mr. Taft said, "How do you do?" and Mr. Roosevelt responded, "How do you do?" If the country feels any better over these formal salutations, so much the better; it could have lost nothing through their omission.

The long arm of the British and French blacklist has extended to the Philippine Islands and is interfering with American firms there because of their accidental employment of German or former German citizens. These firms and their employees can hardly embarrass the military programs of England and France, and these governments are countenancing a policy of petty and irritative meddling when they permit their agents to stop and search ships bound for Manila or forbid their vessels to transport merchandise from an American port in the Philippines to an American port in the continental United States. The dislike and resentment engendered by such a policy will more than counteract any good that can possibly result from it.

A cause of the death of the late King Carlos of Rumania, which up to the present has been omitted from the official records was given by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, German Chancellor, in a speech before the Reichstag Saturday. According to the German official, King Carlos died in consequence of the emotions caused by realization that his country was a traitor to her allies. So far as is known this is the first time in all history of a king succumbing to such an ailment.

Flour is selling at a higher price than known since the civil war; meat prices are 24 percent higher than a year ago; butter, eggs and cheese are greatly enhanced in value and beans, onions and cabbage are on an average of 60 percent higher than a year ago. These food articles are not luxuries; they are the regular, every day staples of the man who works with his hands. The higher cost of living always hits him hardest.

Between January 31, 1915, and July 31, 1916, American investors bought $1,288,773,000 worth of American railway securities alone from European holders. This was approximately one-half of the railway securities held in Europe on the earlier date. The absorption of European securities in the American financial market is one of the notable economic incidents of the war period.

CHANGEABLE LAWS.

(From Ohio State Journal.)

Elihu Root says there are too many lawyers in this country who know too little law. And at times there seem to be too many lawyers who know too much law and as a consequence justice is often defeated. Some people might think this remark is foolish, but it is not, because there is so much law, and knowing much of it tends to its supremacy. Law is a fashion that changes with human conditions. What it was ten years ago it is not now. It grows with the world. It is part of the evolution of mankind, and every man should understand it so, especially if he is a lawyer. Law is simply human desire put into form and hence is not constant; and the precedent of yesterday is error today. So the lawyer of the clearest sort is a sure sign there are too many lawyers. A case lawyer becomes a standpatter as soon as he wants an office. He gets conservative and antique. They are fine fellows, but they are in the balance while the march is in progress.

NOTES and COMMENT

Whoever wins, the Kent family will land.

Take a kid to the circus and forget your troubles.

The "Path of Gold" was opened up one day too late for "Aida."

They shook hands but did not embrace.

Now, if the Governor and General Otis would shake hands, harmony would be complete.

Gambling on the weather appears to be as precarious as betting on elections.

By a vote of four to one Sacramento county has set the pace in the good roads movement.

October 28 has been selected as "Woodrow Wilson Day." November 7 will be Charles E. Hughes' day.

The Berkeley woman of 100 who announces she will cast her first vote for Hughes is a little late in starting, but is headed right.

That horse-drawn vehicles should display lights at night is certainly a wise and reasonable request emanating from the automobilists.

A former San Franciscan, now residing in Los Angeles, filed insanity charges against himself. We learn from despatches. The quiet life preyed upon his mind.

The "Safety First" movement inaugurated by the Mothers' Club of Alameda is worthy of emulation. Greater care exercised by school children would avoid accidents.

Joseph O'Connor, after teaching in San Francisco for forty-eight years, has resigned and married to seek a much-needed rest. Married men please refrain from comment.

How interesting would be the "low down" discussion between Rowell and Fairbanks. At least, Fairbanks appreciates the humor of the situation and Chester does not. Everyone else does.

"Phonies of Los Angeles Full of Bogus Coins" is a heading in a San Francisco paper. In retaliation, we suggest a caption for the Los Angeles press: "San Francisco Hotels Full of Bogus Counts."

A New York man has been sentenced not to talk to his wife for six months. As a general rule, if one may judge from court proceedings, more would be accomplished if the inhibition included other men's wives.

Does the fraternizing of American and Japanese laborers in the unions presage the approach of the Ulysses age? Only before yesterday two notable Americans reached across the bloodless chasm. It appears to be in the air.

The Merchants' Association of Kansas City has wired the President to change the date of Thanksgiving from November 30 to November 23. Possibly the Chief Executive prefers even an earlier date, that he may be privileged to enter the holiday into the spirit of the occasion.

"James H. Barry to resign," states an exchange. For the benefit of strangers it may be well to elucidate to the extent of announcing that what Jim contemplates letting go of carries no salary.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Application has been made to the State water commission by C. Roy Smith of Los Angeles for permission to appropriate 200 cubic feet per second of allagoon in Riverside county, tributary to the Colorado river. The main ditch of the proposed works is to be two miles long, fed by a pumping plant, the system to cost $25,000 and to irrigate 3040 acres.—Riverside Press.

Common sense applied to road building makes a road an asset instead of a liability. Where a county builds a road that will not outlast its cost that county is buying trouble and paying cash for it. It borrows money to buy a liability—creates a debt to buy something that will be a continual expense until it finally becomes a total loss through being worn out. And borrowing money to build a road that will not last under modern traffic conditions is unsound finance.—Modesto News.

Miss Alberta ("Pink") Livernash was a visitor here from San Francisco on Monday. Miss Livernash is a brilliant musician and is constantly adding to the laurels that have already been bestowed upon her in musical circles. Miss Livernash's friends here were delighted to see her on Monday.—Santa Rosa Press-Democrat.

Joseph Peters, a worthy citizen of Woodland, died at 1:30 this morning. He had lived in this state twenty-six years, and had quietly pursued the path of duty.—Woodland Democrat.

WANTED—A BOOK.

"Of making many books there is no end," and of printing and binding a great many things that are not books there is an suggestion of an end. Is it unreasonable to make a little plea for just one more book? We believe there would be a very genuine demand for the book we have in mind, and there used to be such things, before we had all grown so terribly sophisticated. We are thinking of a plain and interesting tale that should really deal with some decent thing. It would have to have that last, little bit that would not depend for its interest on the misdeeds and sordid thoughts of characters who seem to have had no training in the essential decency that makes society possible. To our thinking, there might with profit be at least one character who never once gave way to unholy temptation to commit what we call crime when we make good laws. There might even be a few pleasant people, who found the world not wholly a bore when people behaved themselves. Would it be too much to ask for a happy marriage between two young people who really respected each other and gave some promise of getting along together? Of course we are old-fashioned, yet we are strangely mistaken in our laws. A book, we say, we need not find itself among the six best sellers.—Milwaukee Journal.

AIRCRAFT AND TANKS

That the European war has brought aeroplanes and dirigible balloons to a very high state of efficiency, to a wonderful degree of safety, and that they have proved themselves to be exceedingly important factors in military campaigns, has been so completely and fully demonstrated that it is no longer open to doubt.

All the great powers involved in the conflict have constructed gigantic aeroplanes with capacity to carry many tons weight in crews, guns and explosives; and they rise, fly and alight with great ease and almost absolute safety. The hostile forces are all that the crews of these great transports of the air have now to fear, and with the coming of peace many immense machines will be employed in various parts of the world in the carrying of persons and commodities.

Aeroplane and dirigible balloon plants will be far busier upon orders after the war closes than they are at the present time, and the thousands of men who have become expert in air transportation and aerial warfare will become of far greater service to their fellow-men by the excellent work they are prepared to do when hostilities cease.

Every city will have its hangars then as it has its garages now, and it will have its corps of trained and skillful air pilots, as it has now its expert and efficient chauffeurs.

So it is with the hydroplane. It has made good, and each year will see it become of greater service in military uses, and also in those of peaceful lines of civilian action.

Automobiles and auto trucks, so far as transportation of persons and commodities are concerned, have won their way, and henceforth the daily life of the world will demand greater numbers of each. Automobiles and auto trucks will be called for in ever-increasing numbers by every nation in the world. The United States, with its numerous great plants, should and will control much of the world's trade in the various types of these machines.

The unusual and surprising accounts of the machines called "tanks" in war correspondence from the British front in France, a few days ago, were so plainly advertisements of the machines that they failed to inspire confidence in these traction forts as successful stormers of the trenches and fortified lines.

Military men know from the very nature of these that a shell from any piece of artillery properly placed would promptly put them out of action. With cannon ranged for miles and only 40 feet apart, the "tanks" prove death traps for their occupants.

It is not surprising now that Berlin reports that out of seven tanks sent in by the British on the sector of the line five were destroyed by shells, and two disabled and their crews captured.

Either field or heavy artillery will make short work of such "tanks" in any assaults they may attempt on fortified lines or even in open battlefields. They may have a place in warfare, but that place is not where the artillery of the enemy can reach them.—Washington Post.

WOMEN RIOT IN NEW YORK MILK FAMINE

Children Join Parents in Effort to Force Drivers to Sell Them Even Small Quantity and the Police Sent to End Trouble

In Dairy Sections of State the Night Riders Are Striving to Prevent Sales to Distributors Who in Some Cases Concede

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The milk famine reached the riot stage today. Police blotchers showed trouble on the East Side, where famished women and children took desperate steps. In one instance a driver was dragged from his cart while a mob of 300 drained it of every drop of milk. Milk lines have been established in some sections. There meager portions are doled out. One man started a row when refused a larger quantity, but women behind him made him desist by threats to attack him if he persisted.

Update the night raiders are busy and extra deputies have been called, particularly in Northern Westchester county, to guard creameries against attack.

While distributors had new sources of supply, city officials estimated that the pinch was greater than at any time since dairymen update refused to sell to the big three at existing prices.

One hope of a break in the deadlock was the fact that the Borden Condensed Milk Company, which supplies one-fifth of all the milk sold in this city, announced today that it would meet the demand of the Dairy-men's League for an increased price paid to farmers of 45 cents per 100 pounds. Others in the big three have trailed at 31 cents. The farmers are standing out for a 45-cent raise and a six-months' contract.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 5.—Only about 50 per cent of the normal supply of milk was received here today, which was so distributed that children and others in actual need were served first. Police officers have made a house-to-house canvass to ascertain the number of children and sick persons depending upon milk.

Testimony at Inquest Is Heard by Suspect

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The story of the murder of Jack Hunt, insurance broker and Olympic club member, at the Bushstock apartments, last Saturday night, was told this morning at the inquest held by Coroner T. B. W. Leland. Theodore Fain, the aged miner held by the police for the killing, was present, accompanied by his counsel, Attorney Frank J. Murphy. Irene Hudnut, at whose apartment Hunt was visiting, and Elizabeth Dolan, another occupant, described what they knew of the struggle which resulted in Hunt's being stabbed in the neck and bleeding to death.

Fain, in search of his daughter, Alice, they testified, visited the apartment house and repeatedly rang the Hudnut bell. Hunt attempted to get rid of him and a struggle followed.

Olive Crop to Fall Far Below Normal

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 5.—California's olive crop this year will be below normal, but the orange, lemon and grapefruit crops will be "bummers," State Horticultural Commissioner George P. Weidon announced in a report today. In the big olive producing sections of the state the olive crop will be only 10 to 70 per cent of the normal yield.

SOCIETY MAIDS REHEARSE AS MODELS FASHION SHOW WILL DISPLAY MODES

Home of Ladies' Relief Society Will Benefit

Rehearsals for the Fashion Show that is to be gorgeously staged at the Hotel Oakland on Saturday evening, October 14, for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief Society, began yesterday when a group of the young society women chosen to display the latest whims of the mode met in the ivory ballroom to arrange various details.

The Fashion Show, third in a highly successful series given by the Ladies' Relief Society for the benefit of the home it conducts for children and elderly women, will be similar to the one put on with such éclat across the bay at the Palace Hotel. All manner of creations for feminine adornment, from peignoirs to furry skating costumes and the most glittering of evening robes, are promised—and with them most unusual settings.

As last spring, the hotel ballroom will be transformed into a brilliant theater with boxes along either side and loges next to the long aisle where the models will display the frocks. The stage is to show different scenes—Joy Greenlands for the skaters and Oriental harem effects for the boudoir things. An orchestra will play throughout the sartorial pantomime. After the performance, there is to be a supper dance, at which most of the boxholders will entertain parties of guests.

Half of the mannequins will be from a shop across the bay that is staging the show. The others, recruited from society, will include Mrs. Carlton Gardner, Mrs. William Cav-aller, Mrs. Joseph F. Carlston, Mrs. Alla Henshaw Chickering, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Charles Keeney, Miss Winifred Braden, Miss Clarisse Lohse, Miss Dorothy Taylor and others.

All the boxes and most of the loges have been reserved far in advance of the occasion. The committee in charge is composed of Miss Matilda Brown, Mrs. Frank Proctor and Mrs. Wickham Havens. Mrs. Walton Norwood Moore is the chairman of publicity.

Fair Winds Ahead, and All Is Well

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The storm which broke the sixty-seven year record for clear skies on September 30, caused Lloyd's to lose a $25,000 wager, disrupted the plans for the first production of grand opera al fresco in California and played havoc with late crops, has now definitely moved to the East and left California for good, according to the local weather forecaster. The prediction is that the bay region and California generally is now in for a settled spell of fair weather.

Cabbages and Art Comingled Portland Grocery Shop Is Aesthetic

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—Poets may purchase cabbages in Portland's new aesthetic grocery and not suffer the slightest shock to their tenderest sensibilities.

The grocery is open today in the exclusive Irvington district. George S. Smith presides over its artistic precincts. From the outside it resembles a mansion. No show windows—nothing but colonial colonnades, handsome verandas and sweeping cement driveways.

Inside—splashing fountains, luxurious draperies, striking color schemes, soft rugs under foot. Shy spuds hide their ugliness beneath fragrant rose bushes and the modest onion peeps forth from behind perfume hangings. Family portraits swing aside to reveal hams, the library book shelves are stocked with breakfast food.

WIDOW LOSES $23,000 PLAYING IN POOLROOMS

Woman Gives Evidence in Big Federal Probe of Chicago Gambling Scandal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Canceled checks representing $7000, said to have been paid to alleged members of the syndicate of handbook operators, by a widow, were to be placed before Federal Judge Landis in the course of his investigation into the betting ring case today.

The woman is said to have informed the court officials that she lost the sum indicated in the checks and $23,000 more betting on horse races and that she is now working for $2 a day.

JAPAN-U. S. AIR CALLS SPAN SEAS

Wireless Record Is Broken by Message Received From Nippon by Night San Francisco Operator at Marconi Board

Electric Waves Flash Across Pacific Ocean, a Distance of 5800 Miles; Longest Prior Achievement Is 5200 Miles

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Startling Night Operator A. W. Petersen into sudden alertness and making him believe at first that he was the victim of a practical joke. "Hello, U. S. A." sounded in the Marconi wireless station at 8 o'clock this morning and inaugurated the first direct trans-Pacific telephone conversation ever carried on. The message came from Otchishi, Japan, which is 5800 miles in the slightly curved line of the electrical transmission through the atmosphere.

Petersen assumed the responsibility as a representative of the federal government, and answered the call. The conversation was brief and merely served to establish the identities of the two operators and their locations.

The Japanese government, acting in co-operation with the Marconi Company, recently established a wireless station at Otchishi for direct communication with the Hawaiian Islands. The Japanese minister of communication and President Wilson recently exchanged greetings over the route, but the messages were relayed in Honolulu.

The 5800-mile conversation establishes a new world's record for distance in wireless communication with instruments of a "600 meter wave length" and probably establishes a new mark for sending and receiving with any kind of an instrument.

BETTER PORK, CRY AT CONVENTION

HANFORD, Oct. 5.—Swine breeders and meat packers from all over the state came here today to attend the opening session of the semi-annual convention of the California Swine Breeders' Association, which will discuss methods to better the breed of swine in this state. It is estimated that more than 350 breeders will attend, besides nearly 50 of the meat packers of the state.

The slogan of the convention is to be "Better Pork for California," and addresses embodying this main idea are to be made by leading speakers. W. B. Hough, officer of a large California packing concern, it is understood, has consented to give an address, in which he will discuss "Co-operation of Breeders and Packers for Better Pork in California."

ENGLAND'S PLAN IS MT. DIABLO AUTO RECORD SMASHED

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Cablegrams protesting against reported attempts to deport Russian and Rumanian refugees from England unless they join the British army, were sent today to Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary of England. The protest was the result of a mass-meeting here last night called by the national workmen's committee on Jewish rights, which is said to represent 500,000 workers.

Speakers attacked Samuel for advancing the proposal. Representative Meyer London said that if the act, which is now being considered, was passed in the House of Commons, it would be more infamous than the invasion of Belgium by the Germans.

By EDMUND CRINNION.

Established—trimmed—lowered—broken—smashed—battered—battered and beaten and now brought down to 50 minutes flat.

That is the story of the Mt. Diablo automobile time record brought down to the minute in order to include the sensational drive made this morning by Charles A. Fraser of the Mathewson Motor Company forces who drove a little four-ninety Chevrolet car from the official starting place this morning at Broadway and Twenty-second street to the very top of Mt. Diablo in exactly 59 minutes, official time.

Fraser was checked out by the night foreman of the Don Lee Garage at exactly 5:52 a. m.

Fraser was checked in officially at the top of the mountain by Howard Smith of The Tribune at exactly 6:51 a. m.

Fraser carried three passengers in the car besides himself. The Chevrolet car which was the first car to lower under the hour mark the time from the heart of Oakland to the summit of the mountain, in establishing its record this morning adds to its laurels by the distinction of being the only car that ever held the Mt. Diablo record twice.

The time made by the Chevrolet car this morning was lower than the best previous record by the substantial margin of 2 minutes and 50 seconds.

The Mt. Diablo record has changed hands many times in the past year. The rivalry for the honors of having made the fastest time over this route was started when a local innkeeper gave a trophy for the automobile making the fastest time from the summit of the mountain to the base.

The record was first set by a Franklin car driven by Will Dandy. Then an Oakland Six, driven by Alden McElrath of the Don Lee house lowered the mark to exactly 50 minutes.

Just about that time the contracts for the re-construction of the Tunnel Road were made and that avenue of approach to the Mt. Diablo country was made impossible for auto travel. This condition existed for over a year and then one morning bright and early while all Oakland was asleep Charles Fraser sneaked out of Oakland with his husky little four-ninety Chevrolet and drove to the Mt. Diablo mark to 59 minutes.

Several weeks later a Buick car driven by Ben Hammond made the riddle in 51 minutes and 50 seconds. This latter record is now smashed into oblivion by the little Chevrolet car.

The Chevrolet would have made even better time according to Fraser were it not for the fact that it had to obey the speed laws while in the city limits. The car also was a new one just from the factory and the motor was still green and stiff.

The Mt. Diablo record is over a 33 mile course which represents a climb of from practically sea level to an altitude of 3538 feet over winding mountain roads. The record made this morning by the Chevrolet will be noted with interest as it can be used as a guide in estimating speed of other motors in the proposed Mt. Diablo hill climb as the route taken this morning is over the roadbed that will be followed in the big speed classic.

RUN PROPOSED.

A run has been called to San Jose, next Thursday, for the purpose of attending the first of a series of mass meetings to be held in the different cities of the state in behalf of Amendment No. 3, which provides for a bond issue of $100,000 for the completion of the state highway system and the construction of important laterals.
